

BOUQUETS AT OUR OLLIE

Ollie M James Now One of The

Senator Ollie James of the First congressional district of Kentucky is now one of the great men of the nation. As a matter of course he has to be a great man to preside over the destinies of two national democratic conventions.

There are big things ahead in this country for Mr. James. He is growing every day in popularity and statesmanship and but few men, if any, are better known to the great men of this country than Mr. James.

Kentucky is proud of him and always will be as long as he gives his life to the comfort and happiness and the cause of the great common people. Mark our prediction, there are greater and better things ahead for Senator James.—Mayfield Messenger.

Those Old Fashioned Kentucky Dinners.

Those old fashioned Kentucky dinners are getting to be quite the fad at the "Park-Wilsonia" these hot sun days. Many entire families assemble there and enjoy the large and shady yard, the spacious verandas and incidentally the good dinner.

Some of those who were there last Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Wright and J. N. Haavey of Louisville; J. H. Goodwin, Lebanon, Ky.; Scoville Powell, Henderson, Ky.; Nat Cardwell, Doe Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Davidson, Robt., Madeleine, and Linda Jenkins, R. F. Haynes and Mrs. L. J. Tucker, Judge Carl Henderson, wife and baby, Miss Alice Henderson, Master Carl Henderson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Gus Taylor, Miss Marie Taylor, H. L. Cook, Mrs. Cook, and Miss Elizabeth Cook, J. A. Stephens and wife and Son Thomas, T. J. Yandell, wife and daughters, Miss Katherine and Mrs. R. C. Hopper, of Memphis, Tenn., J. C. Bourland, wife and daughter, Miss Mildred and son Master "Ted" and others.

Fords Ferry Voting Precinct.

The efforts made by a number of voters residing near the center of Ford's Ferry voting precinct, to move the voting place to R. C. Knight's store three miles south of Ford's Ferry failed Monday. Judge Asher deciding that the voting place should stay where it is. There was a spirited fight shown on both sides each of whom employed attorneys. Over one hundred signers were on each petition and many witnesses were called.

VISITS HIS HOME AGAIN

Founder of The Crittenden Press
Here.—First Visit In Ten Years.

R. C. Walker and son Hickman of Grand Junction, Colo., arrived here Saturday morning to visit their old home for a couple of weeks. They made a bee line for the home of the aged mother and grandmother, Mrs. Jane Walker on north main street. R. C. Walker is now postmaster in his town. His son Hickman is an attorney. They have many relatives here and in the county. Among them being four sisters of R. C. Walker, namely: Miss Nell Walker, Mesdames Jesse Olive, David Moore, and Edward Doss.

Mrs. Mollie Ledbetter, of Elizabethtown, Ill., another sister came over while her brother was here to see him and his son.

Mr. Walker founded the Crittenden Press in company with Chas. F. Champion in 1878, nearly 40 years ago, and it has outlived every business enterprise that was here at the date of its birth, and he more than any other man extended the reputation, of Marion as a mining center and of her sons, many of whom have distinguished themselves since, encouraged by his willing pen.

The father and son have been given a cordial welcome back home by old friends whom they meet at every turn.

There are only two speakers in the world, and Ollie James is both of em."

This was the comment made by an admiring Illinois delegate to the Democratic National Convention in the Coliseum here after the eloquent permanent chairmen had concluded his speech.

Following the address of Senator James and the renomination tonight of Woodrow Wilson as President and Thomas Riley Marshall as Vice President the band at the Coliseum played "The End of a Perfect Day." There are newspaper men here of neutral minds, who say that at the conclusion of the Republican National Convention at Chicago last week the band in the half were that delegate body convened struck up "I need thee every hour" and Uncle Joe Cannon's favorite hymn, "Renew My Courage, Lord."

Gen. W. B. HALDEMAN, of Louisville, Kentucky's new National Committeeman, spent a busy day shaking hands with delegates and visitors to the convention. He was applauded by the corps of news writers when he visited the press section in the Coliseum to renew his long time acquaintance with Irvin S. Cobb, born and reared at Paducah, and proud of it, who is among the correspondents "covering" the convention for the Courier-Journal and Times.

Gen. Haldeman was among the first to congratulate Senator James on his speech in accepting the permanent chairmanship of the Democratic National Convention. He occupied a seat on the platform near the Kentucky Senator during the inspiring session in which Senator James "added leaves to his wreath."

Chautauqua Season Tickets

In arranging to inaugurate this Chautauqua this year, the local committee bought 1,000 $3.00 season tickets. After the opening day no season tickets can be had for less than $3.00. For the single admissions to the respective entertainments, see the official programs. Season tickets are non-transferable except within the owner's family. The name of some member of the family must be written in ink upon every season ticket. This provision is made primarily as a protection to the owner in case the ticket should be lost. Children's tickets admit children aged six to fourteen years inclusive. All children are admitted to the children's work free.

These tickets will be sold while they last at $2.50 each.

CHAUTAUQUA OPEN FRIDAY AFTERNOON

At 3 O'clock. Best Program Ever Offered To The Town
Of Marion.

The advertising is all up and most of the tickets are sold for the big Redpath Chautauqua which opens here promptly tomorrow at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The program according to the advance manager M. M. Witherspoon is by all odds the best any Chautauqua has ever put on and is making the biggest hit in the south any attraction of its kind has ever made.

The Chautauqua opens with the Killarney Girls who put on an entire Irish program, these girls are not only the best looking bunch ever seen on a platform but are also the cleverest in there songs, child impersonations and make ups. They carry with them two very splendid violinists who are making big hits in all the southern towns.

William Rainey Bennett starts the ball rolling in the lectures and his lecture "The Man Who Can." Is thoroughly enjoyed by both young and old alike, if you wish to hear something which will be worth dollars and cents to you hear Mr. Bennett's lecture.

The second day opens with the Weatherwax Boys and as they have already been in Marion they need no introduction to the town people. In the evening Mr. Charles Stelze the founder of the labor temple will speak, he is a man of forceful appearance and a man who is recognized as an authority all over the country in both labor and religious problems, he brings to you a much needed message; do not miss his lecture.

Some of the other especially interesting attractions are the Parish Players who are actors of note and who in three short snappy plays try to show what can be done in the way of establishing a dramatic club in your home town.

The Bird Masque is one of the best and most novel things ever put on a platform and is making a big hit in every town, in its stage and scenic effect it reminds one of The Garden of Allah which had such a phenomenal run in New York City.

The White Hussars are by all odds the biggest hit of the whole week, they put on a program of music and entertainment which fairly takes a town by storm if you can only hear one number of the program be sure not to miss this one.

The big new Chautauqua tent has arrived and is being erected on the Carnahan lot which has been cleared off for the purpose.

If you have not bought your ticket do so at once as you can't afford to miss this the biggest and best Chautauqua which has ever toured the south.

O. M. JAMES PRESIDENT 1920

"Our Ollie" Who Has Won National Fame Is Prospective Candidate For President.

The Louisville Times of Friday June 16th places Hon. O. M. James of Marion in nomination for President in 1920 in the following manner.

"The dominant figure at the St. Louis convention was Ollie M. James, of Kentucky. He was the President's personal representative; he was the party's official spokesman; so chosen because, as the floor leader in the Senate, he has for almost four years led the Democratic fighting line and has never met defeat.

"James for President in 1920" was the cry of the convention when he had finished his speech as permanent chairman, and James for President it will be, if the party rightly rewards a great son."—Editorial note.

President Ollie M. James sounds good to us who know him and have watched him grow from barefooted "whilly" to premier of President Woodrow Wilson's coterie of confidential advisers.

FARM LOANS—On long time, cheap interest, repayment privileges. Also life insurance in the Columbia Life.—BEN L. YATES.

Redpath Chautauqua.

Do you know that the biggest and best Redpath Chautauqua ever held in the town of Marion opens tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and continuing through the week in the morning, afternoon and evening? Do you realize that the entertainment that you get here is the best that can be found in the United States and what you get here is the best that can be found in the United States and that you are getting for the whole week what the city of Chicago and other large cities pay for single numbers? The great secret of this is not that the numbers can be put on cheaper here than in Chicago but that by the cooperation of the whole town in purchasing 700 season tickets the Redpath people are able to get talent which in no other way could be brought to a town of this size.

Do you realize that you are getting a season ticket for the sum of two fifty which averages a little more than twelve cents a number for the entire week which makes your splendid entertainment no more expensive than moving pictures and so ridiculously cheap that it seems impossible that anybody can afford to be without one?

Do you know that 39 citizens of Marion have guaranteed the chautauqua this year and that if you wish the Chautauqua to come here year after year it is your bounden duty to help these citizens make good their guarantee and help to get the Chautauqua back for the coming year? Let us all work together to make Marion, the smallest town on the Redpath circuit still the best town on earth
